

SENATORS TO BE IGNORED AT OPENING

May Attend But Will Have No Place on Program

DECISION IS UNANIMOUS

Congressman W. A. Ashbrook Delivers Address to Solons at Cedar Point Banquet.

Sandusky, Aug. 8.—Senator Joseph Benson Foraker will not be one of the speakers at the Republican campaign
opening at Youngstown on September 5 next.

That widely discussed question was settled finally by the subcommittee, representing the Republican state executive committee, at a meeting held at the West House in Sandusky.

This body decided not to place him
upon the list of orators for the occasion, the vote, announced by Chairman
Henry A. Williams, being unanimous.
Instead, he will be given a special invitation to be present at the ceremony and to lend his presence, but not his voice, to the affair.

A similar invitation will be extended to his colleague, Senator Charles F. Dick.

The chairman of the meeting will be Arthur I. Vorys, chief of staff in the Taft campaign.

The chosen orators are to be Governor Charles E. Hughes of New York; Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, and Governor Andrew L.
Harris of this state.

The decision to have Senator Foraker off the list indicates clearly that the Taft managers have grasped the nettle with a firm hand. They have selected the particular horn of the dilemma which presented the least apparent difficulty, and they are prepared to abide by the choice they have made.

It was recognized as impossible to demand of Senator Foraker that his remarks be submitted to the State committee to be censored—beyond all question he would have indignantly spurned such a demand.

On the other hand, the situation was too precarious to permit him to have a free hand. His address at Cincinnati, before the Chamber of Commerce, was a direct pointer of what might have been expected of him if he was invited. He would continue his opposition to President Roosevelt and his policies, and insist that the tampering of the Chief Executive with the established order of things had produced the panic.

Facing these problems, the Republican party leaders evidently have decided their chances in turning down
the Senator completely.

It may be said that this step was made imperative by the speech of Judge William H. Taft at Cincinnati in accepting his nomination for the Presidency. He not only declared that he would continue the policies of President Roosevelt, but defended the Hepburn rate bill in particular. Senator Foraker having chosen this as an illustration in his address in July.

After the publication of this speech

BANKER WHO LOOTED INDIANAPOLIS INSTITUTION SAFE IN AFRICAN RETREAT

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8.—A letter supposed to have been written by Seth M. Richcreek, a prominent Indianapolis banker, who disappeared from here several months ago, was given out yesterday by Henry A.
Miles, a traveling salesman, one of Richcreek's friends. According to the letter, Richcreek is located at Johannesburg, South Africa, under the name of Rich M. Smith. In the letter he says he has no hope of returning home, but that he has plenty of money and is satisfied where he is.
He declares that he is not afraid that any one will come to Johannesburg and recognize him, and that, even if he were recognized, it would make little difference.

He says that shortly after the first suit for receivership of his bank here failed he went to New York and took

STAR LINER CEDRIC STOPPED IN MID-OCEAN WHILE DIFFICULT OPERATION IS PERFORMED

New York, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Thomas Trebell is recovering in a hospital here from an illness which necessitated an operation while she was a passenger on the Star liner Cedric in mid-ocean. Returning from England with her husband she was taken suddenly ill. Dr. W. S. Halstead of Johns Hopkins University, a prominent surgeon was called in consultation. An operation was decided on, and Captain Bartlett was told that it was necessary that there be the least possible motion of the ship. Sunday the ship was halted for an hour and a half while the operation was performed. It was two hours more before full speed was used because of Mrs. Trebell's condition.

It was generally recognized that the difficulty of the Foraker affair had been vastly increased. Not only was the Senator at variance with the President on this point, but also with the party nominee for the Presidency.

At the capitol the prediction freely was made that the action would be forced and it has been verified. The only doubt that existed in the minds of the politicians was whether or not the present party leaders had the nerve to turn down Foraker.

This query has been fully answered.
There is no mistaking the meaning of the verdict of the subcommittee. It says that Senator Foraker, for the first time in a quarter of a century, is not to be called on to take part in a Republican campaign in Ohio. For time immemorial he has been one of the leaders at these openings. Now he must retire to obscurity, for the present at least.

The device of the committee in extending him an invitation to be present at the opening will come as gall and wormwood to him. He will recognize the diplomacy of the play, which is that he cannot make the complaint
that he was ignored as to an invitation.

It may be mentioned here that similar invitations have been extended to all members of the Republican faith

DUE TO ARRIVE SUNDAY MORNING

Auckland, N. Z., Aug. 8.—A wireless from the Atlantic fleet received here today says: "The gale blew itself out last night and fine weather now prevails. The fleet will arrive at Auckland at about 8 o'clock Sunday morning."

The ride match between New Zealanders and a team of American warships has been called off because an Australian law prevents the landing of any armed party on British soil.

GETS MARRIED: APPOINTED MARSHAL

Bellefontaine, Aug. 8.—For a wedding present John Golden has been appointed village marshal by the Lakeview council. The former marshal resigned and Golden arrived home with a wife. He served as marshal for many years but was defeated last year. In honor of the event he was again appointed.

GEN. WM. BOOTH

Will Visit South Africa to Enlist
Workers in the Army's Cause
—Will Soon Be Blind.

Southampton, Aug. 8.—Realizing that blindness will soon put an end to his activities and desiring to complete his chain of worldwide missionary work before that time, General William Booth, accompanied by his staff, sailed today for a tour of South Africa. The General will visit all the principal cities of South Africa establishing army posts. His chief purpose, however, is to enlist native
workers in the army's cause. Cataracts are forming over both eyes of the aged general and total blindness will soon overtake him.

NORWEGIAN MINISTER

RETIRES FROM SOCIETY FUNC-TION AT SULPHUR SPRINGS
IN HIGH DUDGEON.

Was Forced to Give Way to Judge
Taft, Who Led the German at Green Brier Hotel.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.,
Aug. 8.—Does a presidential candidate outrank a foreign minister at a society function? He did last night when Mr. and Mrs. Taft led the German at the Green Brier hotel, and the Norwegian minister, Mr. Gude, and Mrs. Gude, retired to their apartments in high dudgeon. When Mr.
Gude was invited to attend the German he said he would be there if he could lead the grand march. If any one else was given the honor, he said he could not attend because if he dropped into line behind any one else
his sovereign would regard it as a personal affront. The managers had already sent word to Taft that they wanted him to lead. They told Mr.
Gude that the best they could do for him would be to give him second place. So Mr. and Mrs. Gude stayed away.

FINDS GRANDFATHER'S BODY

Napoleon, Aug. 8.—The lifeless body of Henry Deckenhouse, aged 80, was found by his six year old granddaughter yesterday. She had gone to the field to summon him to received no answer brought her parents to her side. Death was due to result of a night in a cell and the or-

Miss Cameron is charged with having stolen a diamond ring valued at $400 from Miss Mary Gilfoil of No.
350 East 163d street, who was a patient in the hospital but she denies any criminal intent, and says she was led to confess through fright when undergoing rigorous examination by the policemen. According to the latter, however, she said she had been induced to steal the ring by an ambulance surgeon connected with the hospital.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR THAW

Assets Placed at $128,012.
.38 and Liabilities at $453,140.43

SECRECY IS MAINTAINED

Thaw Claims Lawyers and Doctors
Threaten to Dissipate
His Estate.

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—Wm. R. Blau, referee in bankruptcy, for Allegheny county, will today arrange for a meeting of the creditors of Harry Kendall Thaw, who late yesterday filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States Circuit court. Every effort is being made today to keep the trust fund created by Wm. Thaw out of the hands of creditors.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed after 8 o'clock last night in the United States court by Attorney
Charles Morschauser, New York, representing Harry K. Thaw of this city, who is now confined in the Dutchess county, N. Y., jail.

In the petition Thaw states that his assets are $128,012.38 and his liabilities $453,140.43.

Roger O'Mara, a well known Pittsburg detective and personal friend of the Thaw family, was appointed receiver. His bond was placed at $200,- 000, and John Newall and James W.
Platt, two prominent business men of this city, became securities for Mr.
O'Mara. The most interesting information given out regarding the petition asking for the appointment of a receiver, in which it is alleged that the action is taken for the purpose of preventing his property being dissipated in litigation over claims, many of which are unjust.

The figures in the bankruptcy petition show that this refers to the lawyers and doctors.

Thaw states that he is confined in jail in Dutchess county, N. Y., and is likely to be there for some time. He says some of his creditors have commenced suits against him and others are contemplating similar actions. He is unable, he says, to give the litigation his attention, owing to his confinement.

Loans amounting to $191,500 from his mother, Mrs. William Thaw, are not disputed.

Among the disputed claims are the following: John B. Gleason, New York, $80,000; Harridge & Peabody,
New York, $60,000; J. J. Graham, Newburg, N. Y., $2954; Dr. Hammond, New York, $10,000; Dr. Wagner, Binghamton, N. Y., $4040; Dr.
Jelliffe, New York, $2445; Dr. Jones,
Morristown, N. J., $6000; Martin Littleton, New York, $8055; Dr. Hamilton, New York, $12,000; Dr. Dana,
New York, $1600.

Previous to filing the papers, Attorney Morschauser held a long conference with Stone & Stone, Thaw's local counsel, and the greatest secrecy was maintained regarding the action

TO PROTECT ALL CREDITORS.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Harry K. Thaw, when interviewed in jail regarding the bankruptcy proceedings instituted in Pittsburg, said that he had already spent $220,000 and that there are additional claims amounting to $200,000 more. His assets, he said, included $20,000 cash.

Continuing, Thaw said:
"It is a business necessity due to the heavy expenses which I have been under during a period of over two years. Now I find additional bills and claims, many of them exaggerated.
To pay these as they are presented would entail a result that I could not pay all, and some just creditors would suffer. It is to prevent exactly such injustice that the bankruptcy laws were created, and I consider that by becoming bankrupt I insure justice to all."

By an order of County Judge Hasbrouck Harry K. Thaw must appear before Referee Holmes Vandewater at 10 a. m. Monday to be examined as to his indebtedness to Dr. J. H. Wilson, in supplementary proceedings
brought against the doctor by Mrs.
Ella B. Hav, a judgment creditor. Thaw is placed in the position of being at two places at one time, for Referee
Schlosser of Fishkill Landing has ad-

WITH BRIDE IN BURNED DISTRICT

ROBERT POTTER, NEW YORK, WHO WAS FATHER AND HIS BROTHER, ALEXANDER POTTER.

New York, Aug. 8.—One prominent
New York man, who has been living in Fernie, B. C., for the last year and a half, is now in the heart of the burning forest region. He is Robert Potter, brother of Alexander Potter, a well known consulting engineer in this city, living at the Ansonia, Broadway and Seventy-third street.

A.I. efforts to communicate with him
have been unsuccessful. While Mr.
Potter has little fear for his brother's safety, he is afraid he may be forced to undergo some hardships. Members of the family have been communicated with and are making concerted efforts to get some word. That Mr. Potter, with his bride of three months, was in Fernie at the time the town was destroyed seems certain in the light of a letter received from him and dated a short time before.

Journal the hearing in Thaw's suit to fix the value of Dr. Wilson's services as an expert on Monday at 9 a. m.
The proceedings before Mr. Vandewater are to be in the supervisor's room in Poughkeepsie, while that before Mr. Schlosser is at Fishkill, 16 miles away.

EVELYN THE CAUSE.

Pittsburg, Aug. 8.—It is stated by close friends of the Thaw family that one of the chief reasons for Thaw's decision to go into bankruptcy was the fact that his wife, Evelyn, has been demanding and receiving about $1,000 per month over the amount allowed her in the agreement with Harry's mother. It is stated that the bankruptcy proceedings mark the severance of the last tie of affection between Thaw and his wife.

VESSEL BURNED

AND SIX PASSENGERS LOST THEIR LIVES IN LAKE
WINNIPEG.

Fire Extends to Piers and Buildings of Trading Post Which is Nearly Ruined.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 8.—Six passengers and two of the crew of the steamer Premier lost their lives when that vessel burned to the water's edge at Warren's Landing at the northern end of Lake Winnipeg on Thursday. News of the accident reached here today. The dead are Mrs. A. Couture, of Selkirk; Mr.
Obon, of Gimli; Miss Povah, of Winnipeg, and Elmer Jones, Oscar Overton and L. Fryer of Selkirk. Gus Weil, cook, and Norman Fisher, assistant, also lost their lives.

Fire from the burning vessel ignited the piers and buildings of a trading post at the landing, and most of the post is in ruins.

STATE WILL LET CANAL CONTRACTS

Will Spend Nearly Hundred Thousand Dollars During the Summer.

Columbus, Aug. 8.—Two engineers
for the state board of public works are getting ready to let a number of large contracts for canal improvements provided for by the last session of the legislature, on August 11.
Among them are the following:

The construction of a revetment
wall, concrete, along the west shore of the St. Mary's reservoir. This is done to preserve both the reservoir
and the abutting property, the wave blowing hard upon that shore. The estimated cost is $30,000.

The construction of a concrete waste weir at Buckeye Lake, the old one being greatly weakened and in danger of going out at any time. It is to be 90 feet long and the amount appropriated for it is $7000.

A new bulkhead at Lorain reservoir to cost $15,000. These improvements will call for the use of a large amount of cement, and give rise to the fourth contract which will be let at the same time, the contract for furnishing 6000 barrels of cement.
It is the policy of the state in making these improvements to furnish the cement to be used, and not run the risk of the use of poor cement by the contractors.

MOTHER STEWART PASSES AWAY

DEATH OF NOTED TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE AT HER HOME IN HICKSVILLE.

Was Prominent on Platform and Pulpit—Established First W. C. T.
U. in Ohio.

Springfield, Aug. 8.—Mrs. Elizabeth
M. Stewart, a noted temperance advocate, and known all over the country as "Mother" Stewart, is dead at her home in Hicksville. Her body will be shipped to this city for burial.
"Mother" Stewart was 92 years old.
She devoted her life to the temperance cause. Mrs. Stewart established the first W. C. T. U. in Ohio at Osborn in 1873. In 1876 she visited England and organized the first W. C.
T. U. in that country. Following the Civil war she lectured extensively in the southern states in behalf of the war sufferers.

Five years ago "Mother" Stewart became interested in the teachings of John Alexander Dowie, and visited Zion City, where she remained one year, since which she has lived with friends at Hicksville. Until five years ago she resided in this city, where she led in many temperance crusades.
Scarcely a woman in America could boast of the praise from pulpit and press like "Mother" Stewart.

BROKER DEAD; SUICIDE FEARED

Toledo, Aug. 8.—After an explosion and fire which destroyed his home the dead body of Charles Polscher was found in the ruins. Polscher was a merchandise broker. He had been dependent of late, and as two gas jets were found open after the fire, the theory of the coroner is that the man may have committed suicide.

for a receiver. The firm is an English corporation and is said to have been short on wheat.

The application for the receiver-

collections are given as the principal cause. The mills of the company, five in number, situated in Minneapolis, have an aggregate capacity of 30,000 barrels per day. C. S. Pilla-bury, A. C. Loring, and A. C. Cobb

000 by United States Judge Purdy.
A meeting of the creditors will be held Monday.

The mills of the company have not been shut down and the receivers de-

Join in Attack Upon the Shah's Army.

Constantinople, Aug. 8.—Tabriz, the storm center of the Persian revolution and second largest city in the empire, has seceded from Persia and declared allegiance to Turkey, according to authority messages which arrived here today. Already a Turkish force near the Persian border is mov-tack on the Shah's army, provided affirmative orders are received from the Turkish government.

RAILWAY STATION BURNS.

Napoleon, Aug. 8.—The Washburn

Loss $1200 covered by insurance.

ference. He has expressed no regret, indignation over the crime runs high and every precaution is being taken to guard against violence. His wife is prostrated.

..The.. Jade God

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

WHEN the good ship Tartary, bound from San Francisco to Shanghai, lay to at the mouth of the Whangpo river, Winston leaped eagerly over the rail as the landing tug made fast to the steamer and the stream of waiting passengers poured over the gangplank. Each one came under his careful scrutiny, and as the last one passed over he left his position and hurried on to the little tug, which was preparing to cast off.

There was an expression of relief on Winston's face as he boarded the crowded boat, and it grew in satisfaction as they cast off and proceeded up the muddy little tidal river toward the city. He stood alone among the passengers, a silent, rather moody figure, clad in light tweed, with a cap pulled low over his forehead. He did not have an acquaintance on board, and the long voyage across the Pacific had been unbroken by any friendship made or acquaintance formed.

Puffing, snorting, luggage tugs rushed past them to relieve the Tartary of her burden. Awkward junks, with clumsy sails, wrestling against the strong tide, wallowed in their wake. The darting sampans, speedy launches and cormorant fishers all formed part of a scene that was familiar enough to Winston, and he watched it with lack-luster eyes.

At last they were ashore, and Winston had emerged upon the Bund with a feeling of intense relief. He jumped into a waiting carriage and was driven immediately along the beautiful boulevard toward the old native city of Shanghai. He passed through the American, English and French concessions, and as they passed for an instant before the city gate ere they entered its dark arch he signaled to the driver and alighted.

"I will walk," he said curtly. With that remark he disappeared within the gate and hastened rapidly down a dark and narrow street, paved with broken stones and filthy beyond description. With the directness of one who treads a familiar path he threaded the narrow streets, pushing his way through the throngs of blue blouse Chinese that blocked traffic at every corner. They swarmed in and out of the tiny shops, and in the bazaars the din of their staccato voices was deafening. Through it all Winston walked with unseeing eyes and unheeding ears.

At last he paused before a tiny shop

A SILENT AND RATHER MOODY FIGURE, tucked away in a maze of others, glanced furtively around and then bent his tall head and entered. A large Chinese emerged from a curtained interior and turned a bland, unsmiling countenance and dull little eyes toward him.

"Where is it?" demanded Winston roughly in English.

The man made no response. He merely stared impassively into the face of the American.

"Where is it?" repeated Winston, this time savagely. He thrust a hand into his pocket and drew a small, shining revolver. The weapon fell into his hand easily, and his long brown fingers closed about it as he raised it toward the Chinese.

The man uttered a frightened squeal and dodged into the back room, with Winston close upon his heels. He crouched in a corner and fumbled at a box.

"Get up," commanded Winston sternly. "Get up and answer my question."

Slowly the man arose, and this time the impassivity of his face was broken by an ugly grin that distinguished his wide mouth from ear to ear. "I don't know where it is," he replied in English, thrusting his yellow, clawlike hands into the sleeves of his blouse and staring impudently into Winston's face.

Winston sat down on a stool and coolly leveled the revolver at the man. "I'll give you two minutes," he said grimly. "Now hunt till you find it!"

The man did not stir as he stood there. The American slowly counted the seconds that made the first minute. When he began on the second minute the wide grin slowly changed to an expression of cowardly fear, and as Winston counted fifty seconds the man darted down into the corner where he had crouched before and extended an object toward the American. Winston smiled joyfully, for the first time since he left San Francisco. The expression of care that had clouded his face lifted, and he threw back his stooping shoulders with a breath of relief.

The object which the Chinese extended toward him was a small image of the god of content. It was carved from dull green jade, and portraits of its only surface were worn smooth, as if by much handling. There was hatred in the eyes of the Chinese as he gave the image into Winston's hands.

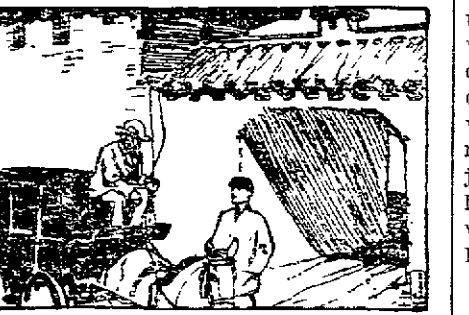

"How much this time?" asked Winston quietly as he thrust the weapon into one pocket of his coat and the green god into another.

The man suddenly named a price, which Winston paid with a coin. Winston then made his way leisurely back to the city gate, knowing that he was followed by several lithe, dodging figures. He kept furtive watch, however, and at last passed through the gate unmolested and entered the carriage which had waited for him. During the ride he sat with folded arms and thoughtful brow. Once he took the green god out of his pocket and surveyed it longly.

Jack Winston had come into possession of the green god some four years before the occurrence of the events related above. He had returned from a stroll through the bazaars of the old city, and as he entered the cool veranda of his bungalow he felt in his pocket for his matchbox. He had drawn forth the green god. Where it came from, how it got there, he never knew. He had found it there after his return from the bazaar, and as he looked at it curiously, examining the delicate carving of the hideous face, he experienced a feeling of rare exultation in its possession. He could not tell why he rejoiced at the discovery of the god in his pocket, but he was jealously careful that no one should know that he possessed it. He carried it hidden away in an inner pocket of his vest, and the small flat object pressing against his breast inother trips, during which you came and went silently, unobtrusively, and never once came to renew old friendships."

Winston hung his head, and a certain obstinate line deepened about his mouth. Still he made no response.

"What is it, Jack?" Winston paled at the emotion expressed in Miller's voice. He and Bob Miller had been chums since childhood. He had come between them? He tried to recollect that he had not thought of old friends since—why, since the green god had come into his possession the first time!

He drew out a handkerchief and lifted it to his perspiring brow. As he did so the little green god fell rattling upon the polished floor.

Winston bent down and picked up the image. He

"WINSTON, BY ALL THAT'S GOOD TO LOOK UPON!"

thrust it behind him, clinched in his hand, and looked away from the infuriated face of Winston.

"Hold on there, old man!" he cried, throwing out a restraining hand. "You can have it back when I get through saying what I've got to say. You can have it if you want it."

"I do want it," returned Winston doggedly. "Wait. Sit down again." Miller waited until his friend had resumed his chair, and then he sat down opposite, surveying him with gravely anxious eyes. The green god was clasped in his hands. "Until four years ago I was the owner of the jade god," he said slowly.

"You?" Winston ejaculated. "Yes. I found it among my possessions in a most mysterious manner, and from that moment I had no peace of mind. It disappeared almost immediately afterward, and I trailed it feverishly, madly, until I found it paid a price and took it home, only to lose it again later on and to recover it in the same manner. I can't tell why I wanted it. I am not a collector of curios, but so long as I had possession of it I was content. When I lost it I was almost murderous in my desire to recover it. The prices I paid for the jade god nearly ruined me. You helped me out many a time, Jack, when I had lost it, and then one day I woke up, or some one woke me up."

"How?" asked Winston hoarsely. "Told me the story. It's an old trick with Yung. The image certainly possesses some magnetic power that influences the owner to recover it at all hazards when lost. Yung smuggles it into the pocket of a gullible foreign devil, such as you and I are. We find it, yield to its fascination. Yung's agents steal it. We start in hot haste after it. Jealous lest some other should possess it, we pay a blackmailing price for it and lose it again, and so it goes on indefinitely until there is no more money to pay with, and then we lose it for the last time. That's what happened to me. You remember Jackson?"

Winston nodded. "Shot himself when his money gave out and couldn't get the god back again. I've lost all taste for the thing now. It can't fascinate me." Miller looked down at the jade image carelessly. Then his gaze became fixed, and a covetous smile spread over his face. He lifted his eyes with a cunning gleam at Winston, and the ferocity of the other man's glance startled him to sudden gravity.

"FORGIVE ME, JACK, I DID IT FOR BOTH OF US."

"Come, Winston," he shouted hoarsely. "Come with me, man!" He turned and dashed through the door and into the street, closely followed by Winston.

Straight toward the river he hurried. Winston at his heels, a curiously eager light in his eyes and one hand grasping the revolver in his coat pocket.

Then they reached the Bund, and Miller turned. "Come on, Winston!" he cried again breathlessly, and together they strode to the end of the long public wharf.

"What is it, you scoundrel? Give me my god!" shouted Winston amid the clatter of traffic and the chatter of cooly voices about them.

Miller's long arm shot upward, jerking back and then forward, and the jade god described a parabola in the air and splashed dully into the muddy waters of the Whangpo. As the circles widened and disappeared in the flowing current Miller turned to Winston and thrust out his hand.

"Forgive me, Jack," he said in a tone broken with emotion. "I did it for both of us. It would have ruined us both in the end."

Winston's gaze had been riveted on the spot where the jade god had disappeared. Now he turned his eyes to Miller's, and there was a certain light of understanding in them. He smiled ruefully and took the proffered hand.

"I believe I believe I am very glad," he said.

Woman's Doings.

Although the Use of Perfumes Is Not Regarded as Good Form, Many Aristocratic Women Continue to Indulge In Them.

In spite of the constant reminders from the social authorities that the use of perfumes is not tolerated in good society, the fact remains that many very exalted personages are addicted to the reprehensible habit. Wilhelmina of Holland uses a pint of eau de cologne in her daily bath, Victoria of Spain affects a mixture of iris and lavender on her handkerchief, Helena of Italy prefers iris and heliotrope, and her mother-in-law and the widowed queen of Portugal are devoted to wood violet. The czarina spends $20,000 a year for perfume bought in Paris. Queen Alexandra uses a specially prepared scent the composition of which is a secret handed down from father to son in the same establishment. It is known to contain musk, amber, rose, violet, jasmine, orange and lavender.

Mrs. Florence Kelly, secretary of the National Consumers' league, in a recent speech commented adversely on Governor Hughes' vetoing of the bill for an increase of teachers' salaries in New York city. "The schools," she said, "are suffering from an excess of legislation. We are told that women ought not to have the ballot because of the large number of foreign immigrant women. I have worked among these women, and I do not find them bad. I have known of Irish washerwomen sending their boys through college, and I have never in sixteen years known of a mother who drank up a child's earnings. No women need the ballot so badly as those at the bottom of the heap."

The Society For Promoting the Employment of Women does a good work in London. Besides enabling women to enter many new lines of work, it sends them to those centers where labor is scarce. The fact that it is a link between the source of demand and the source of supply makes the organization a particularly useful one. There is a something in the theory that there is work for every one somewhere, the problem being to get the worker to the work.

The Evening Journal of New York recently, in commenting editorially upon Justice Brewer's able decision in regard to the law limiting woman's working day to ten hours, said in regard to legislation affecting working women:

"How ridiculous it is, however, that women should be at the mercy of men in these matters; that the mothers of men should have no vote; that the woman who gives a Lincoln or an Edison to the nation should have no say in the nation's government."

"How preposterous that the brutal, cold hearted employer who would overwork a woman is able to vote, to pick out the judges who shall decide her fate, whereas the mother, slaving in the employer's factory, has no word to say on election day."

"How soon will the decency of men and the strong determination of women give to women a right to share in legislation, a right to help elect the judges or the executives that appoint the judges, a right to protect themselves and their families with their own votes?"

The most determined opponents to the enfranchisement of women are the rich, idle women from whom the ranks of the parlor Socialists are recruited. They are the supporters of antisuffrage leagues, the opponents to all efforts to give women the ballot, because they themselves have all the privileges they care about. The trouble with the parlor Socialist is she is quite interested only in helping the working woman in her own way, and that way happens to be of little use to the working woman.

Mrs. Lydia Adams Williams is the lady patroness of American forests. She has taken up the subject and is trying to interest women's clubs and women in general in their preservation. Mrs. Williams is a Washington woman, a member of the Women's National Press association and other clubs. She said in a recent address about the forests:

"The saving of the country's resources will be an assured fact when the women of the country devote themselves earnestly to that work. It is peculiarly woman's work, for to woman the practice of saving, of conserving, has ever been paramount. Tarreaching results may be accomplished speedily by women educating the men of their families and by inculcating in their children the precepts of economy in relation to the conservation of national resources. In this way the people of this country might be converted in a single generation from the most wasteful in the world to the most prudent."

"The forest service estimates of timber now standing in the United States compared with the present rate of consumption show a probable exhaustion of our timber supplies in a little more than thirty-three years. These facts should convince the most skeptical of the immediate and vital necessity of using every means within our power to prolong the life of our forests."

PRISONER

Jumps From Flying Train While He Is Handcuffed and Escapes from Officer.

Passengers on the north bound train of the Shawnee division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad witnessed the daring escape of a handcuffed prisoner from an officer Saturday noon. When the train reached Bruno, Officer Reynolds of the Buckeye Lake police force, boarded the train with a young man named John Miner of Hebron, whom he had arrested on a charge of stealing a bicycle and $35. The young man was securely handcuffed. The officer and his prisoner took seats in the smoker, and everything went along lovely until just before the train reached the National road crossing, when the prisoner obtained permission to go in to the water closet and the officer went out on the platform of the car. Just after the train left the National road, and it was under good headway, Conductor John Woolson went to the front end of the car to commence taking up the tickets when he noticed Miner hanging from the window, the water closet. The conductor ran to the door of the car and notified the officer when that officer jumped from the train and started in pursuit.

PAPA'S JEWELRY

COPIED BY DAUGHTERS FROM HIS SHOW CASE FOR THEIR BEAUX.

Girls Confess and Young Men Have Been Arrested Charged With Receiving Stolen Goods.

New York, Aug. 8.—Not because they loved their father less, but their beaux more, led Pauline and Minnie Miskam, daughters of Frederick Miskam, a Union Hill, N. J., jeweler and clerks in his store to lavish between $1,000 and $2,000 worth of jewelry on three young men according to the Union Hill police. This jewelry was taken from Pa. Miskam's show cases. When the mother of one of the boys on whom Pauline smiled noticed this sudden affluence, she notified Miskam of her suspicions. An investigation followed and Pauline confessed. Then the unsuspecting father noticed that his stock had been sadly depleted. Nicholas Schultz and Robert Becker, both of West Hoboken, and Jacob Malbach of Union Hill, the recipients of the girls' lavish gifts, are held by the police on a charge of receiving stolen property.

How to Wash an Auto.

In washing an automobile use plenty of water. Two sponges should be used and two chamol skins, one set being used for the body and the other set for the chassis and running gear, since the chassis and running gear will always be more or less oily, and there is no excuse for getting oil on the body. When a car comes in at night covered with mud, under no circumstances should this be allowed to remain on overnight and harden. The car should be immediately run on the washstand and the mud softened by showering the car with cold water. Do not attempt to rub the mud off, but allow it to be taken off gradually by the water.

How to Remove Peach Stains. This is a remedy for obstinate peach stains on linen, says a writer in Good Housekeeping. Place a tablespoonful of sulphur on a plate, add a few drops of pure alcohol and ignite. Over this place a tin funnel. Wet the stain and hold over the small opening in the funnel. Allow the sulphur fumes to come in contact with every particle of the stain. The action is a quick chemical bleaching, which is effective for any stain on white goods. Be sure to rinse the material immediately and thoroughly in weak ammonia water, then launder as usual.

How to Preserve Finger Nails. Before working in the garden, polishing the stove or doing other rough work rub your finger nails over a piece of soap. This will prevent the earth from getting in under the nails, and when you wash your hands the soap will come out easily. This is recommended to people who find it hard to do garden work with gloves on their hands.

ALIMONY

ASEKED BY LAURA M. MOORE WHO HAD PREVIOUSLY BEEN AWARDED $100.

John A. Brown, Charged With Assault to Kill, Remanded Back to county Jail.

A hearing was had in the Probate court Saturday morning on the application for temporary alimony by Laura M. Moore, plaintiff in the divorce suit against William Brown. Upon calling the case it was found that temporary alimony had been granted the plaintiff in the sum of $100 in December, 1906, which was paid, but the case has never been pressed for trial. The court said that it must be shown to him who was in fault that the case had not been tried or settled long ago—if it was the plaintiff's fault then she would clearly not be entitled to further alimony, but if it was the defendant's fault, then she would be entitled to further alimony. S. L. James, who appeared for the plaintiff, asked for further time and the case was continued until Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Smythe & Smythe appeared for the other side.

Answer Filed. In the case of Angus C. Smith and others against Eli W. Davis and others, the defendants, Frank B. Dudgeon, administrator with the will annexed of Eli H. Davis, deceased, has filed his answer. He says that he does not know and has not the means of knowing, at this time whether the personal estate of Eli H. Davis, deceased, will amount to enough to pay all the debts of the estate, and cannot make known to the Probate judge what amount of money will be needed, if any, from the sale of the real estate, to finish the settlement of the estate. He asks that he be not required to furnish such statement until the expiration of one year from the date of his appointment, unless he shall see his way clear to do so. T. Z. King, attorney.

For Non-support. James Brown, who lives on Boylston avenue, was arrested for non-support of his minor children. He gave bond for his appearance before Justice Holton on Thursday, August 13.

No Rehearing. The case of the application of John A. Brown, who is confined in the county jail in default of bond, on the charge of assault with intent to kill, for a rehearing, came up for action in the Probate court Saturday morning. The plaintiff in the case was brought to the court room from the jail, and all the parties appeared. After some consultation the case was dismissed and the plaintiff was taken back to jail.

It was sug- gested at Monday night's meeting that Cedar Camp try and capture the registration prize of $30, and all members of Cedar Camp who go to the Ohio State Fair, that they go on Tuesday, September 1, and register at the M. THE CANAL TALK
Now that the water is off the canal, we observe the filth at the bottom of it and are greatly exercised about it. So it is with many evils. Knowing them to be present, still we are com- placent so long as we can avoid the sight of them. The contamination of our wells and reservoirs we cannot see, so we go on filling our systems with drainage and think nothing of it. Presently, there comes a little clogging, giving the little disease germs a chance, and we wonder what made us sick.
A certain quantity of a live spring water, taken regularly, will be a safe- guard against the many ills which have their beginning in such a condi- tion. In Chalybeate Spring Water lies a way to comparative safety, because it is pure in itself and gently cleans- ing in its effects. We know it. Our chemist and your physician will tell you so. If you have tried it, you know it. If not, ask someone who has. Office 16 1-2 North Park Place. Phone 7121 Red.

The Cost of Living Then and Now.

It is to be hoped that our legislators and other gentlemen who meet to con and rehearse maxims of state from time to time will pay due attention to the fluctuations in the wholesale prices of the necessities of our life from 1890 to 1907. The figures have just been issued by the department of commerce and labor, and it appears that the average wholesale prices of 258 staple commodities reached a higher level in 1907 than at any other time during the eighteen year period covered by the investigation. The average for 1907 was 5.7 per cent higher than for 1906, 44.4 per cent higher than for 1897, the year of lowest prices for the period, and 29.5 per cent higher than the average for the decade from 1890 to 1899.

The articles considered in the investigation are grouped under nine heads, and all of the nine groups show an increase in 1907 as compared with 1906. For farm products, taken as a whole, the increase was 10.9 per cent, the highest percentage of increase in the list. The increase in fuel and lighting was the lowest, being 2.4 per cent. Food increased 4.6 per cent, cloth and clothing 5.6 per cent, metals and implements 6.1 per cent, drugs and chemicals 8.3 per cent, house furnishing goods 6.8 per cent and a miscellaneous group 5 per cent. Among the 258 articles considered thirty-five showed no change in price between 1906 and 1907, and fifty-one showed a decrease. It may be that some one economic cause separate and distinct from every other cause was responsible for the rise of 44.4 per cent in the wholesale price of necessary commodities in ten years. If this increase is for the general good, no one should complain of the high cost of living, and it should be the province of statesmanship to locate the cause, estimate the degree of gain and give the public light on this vital problem.

Even now there are many, with Harman at the front of the procession, who love T. R. for the enemies he is going to make in that African jungle.

For nearly forty years, New Discovery has stood at the head of throat and lung remedies. As a preventive of pneumonia, and healer of weak lungs it has no equal. Sold under guarantee, at F. D. OBITUARY

MRS. JANE PRIEST.

Mrs. Jane Priest, widow of the late Wm. Priest, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. M. C. Mack at Browns-ville, Saturday morning at 5 o'clock, death being due to a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Priest was 69 years of age and was born in Fallbury township. She was a kind and indulgent neighbor and a good Christian woman, being a member of the United Brethren church. She leaves three children, Miss Anna Priest, Mrs. M. C. Mack, of Brownsville and Rev. D. S. Priest, of New Lexington.

The funeral will occur Monday morning at 10 o'clock, sun time, and interment will be made in the village cemetery.

MRS. CATHERINE DEBOW.

Gravely, O., Aug. 8.—One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in this community for a long time, and one that is sincerely regretted, was that of Mrs. Catherine DeBow, wife of Mr. John DeBow. The death of this most estimable woman was very sudden and unexpected, and occurred at the home on Spellman street, this place, Friday morning at 10:30. The immediate cause of death was a stroke or apoplexy, which she sustained Wednesday night. She had apparently been in the enjoyment of her usual health up to that time. Wednesday evening she spent in reading and retired about 10 o'clock. Shortly after retiring she made the remark, "John, it's getting late, hadn't you better come to bed?" She then put her hands to her head and said, "Oh, my head," which were the last words she ever spoke, as she immediately lapsed into unconsciousness, in which condition she remained until the end came.

Mrs. DeBow's maiden name was Catherine Clark, and she was the eldest daughter of Sylvester and Samantha Clark, both former residents of this place, although long deceased. On May 12, 1859, she was married to Mr. John DeBow, the ceremony taking place at the old home on Loudon street. During all their long life they have lived happily together and surrounded by their children no happier home could be found anywhere than has been theirs all their lives until their children made homes for themselves, and even then the paternal hearth was much sought. Five children were born to them, four of them living. Their second child, Minnie, died August 8, 1864, and hers was the second interment made in the beautiful Maple Grove cemetery. The surviving children are Lewis, of Granville, William H., of Barnesville, Burton of Newark, and Mrs. E. D. King of Columbus. Mrs. DeBow had been a faithful and consistent member of the Presbyterian church of this place for many years, and hers was a life of real Christianity.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the interment will be made in Maple Grove cemetery.

HE WANTS THE WORLD TO KNOW

GOOD REPORTS ARE COMING IN FROM EVERY DIRECTION

Many people of Newark and vicinity are greatly interested in the new remedy, Root Juice, that is now being demonstrated in the City drug store. It is certainly a great medicine if one can judge by the reports that are coming in from every direction. A number of local people are claiming that the first dose of the juice made them feel better. During the past few months the remedy has made scores of remarkable cures in many sections of the state, and created considerable excitement. Numerous testimonials similar to the following are received almost daily: "I write this for publication with the hope that it will influence those who suffer as I did, to try the great medicine that cured me. The wonderful Root Juice medicine has done so much good for me that I feel it my duty to publish it to the world. I spent a life of misery for years, but thanks to Root Juice I am now free from every ache and pain. I, like many others, was very skeptical when the papers first told of the many hundreds of cures the remedy was making. When the scientist was invited to come here I thought he would be unable to prove all that was claimed for the medicine. However, I was soon convinced as it did wonders for several of my neighbors. At the same time I felt that every organ in my body was nearly worn out. My liver was torpid, my kidneys were weak and my stomach was in a horrible condition, at times it felt like it had rocks in it, a great deal of gas formed and I bloated fearfully. I had dizzy weak spells frequently and was badly constipated. My appetite was very poor and even in hot weather my hands and feet were often cold. I was using some kind of medicine most of the time without much benefit, but after using Root Juice a few days I began to improve. I have used it six bottles, and am feeling better than I have for twenty years and firmly believe that I am permanently cured."—O. H. Cummings, R. R. No. 4, Lafayette, Ind. The Fruit Juice people at the City Drug Store are very pleasant in giving information in relation to the remedy. It is sold for $1 a bottle or three bottles for $2.50.

in both branches of congress, to all of the state officials and to all county chairmen.

There may be a few extra words of moonshine in the Foraker and Dick letters, but in the end they amount to the same as the others, being merely invitations to come and warm a chair on the stage, while the chosen orators are discussing the issues of the day.

Asked if he thought it possible that Senator Foraker would accept the invitation issued him, Chairman Williams said:

"We have no reason to believe that he will not accept."

This, of course, is a negative way of putting it. The general belief among the assembled Republican politicians is that Foraker will regard it as an effort to humiliate him and he will decline to be present.

Chairman Williams stated also that there were assurances that both Senator Beveridge and Governor Hughes would be present.

Discussion of the decision of the State committee to ignore Senator Foraker in this highly important matter develops the common belief that a determination has been reached to count him out of the reckoning in Republican politics in Ohio, this year at least.

The leaders have been a long time in arriving at this conclusion, which now seems to be final, and a new epoch dawns in the affairs of that party in this state.

Evidently the consequences must have been weighed. No set of ordinarily intelligent men would have taken such a step without considering them. It is, therefore, only fair to say that Foraker is now outside the breastworks through force and deliberate design.

The election of Arthur I. Vorys for chairman of the meeting is too significant to be ignored. Usually this post of honor is given to the Governor of the state or to some citizen of the locality pre-eminently distinguished for his services to the party or community.

The choosing of the virtual head of the Republican organization in the state is so extraordinary as to excite more than a passing notice. It is the belief of many of his political opponents that something has been arranged for the future for Vorys by Judge Taft in the event that the Republican ticket is successful in the nation this year. Although denied the post of national manager, other marks of distinction have been showered upon him.

Upon adjourning the members of the committee announced that Chairman Williams had been selected to make whatever statement was necessary regarding what had been done. When the word was flashed across the bay to the hotel and board walks, where the politicians were gambling, there was genuine excitement.

Those who were not on the inside were flustered, while those who had been given the tip immediately entered upon a campaign of support of the committee's action. They asserted that Senator Foraker was alone to blame, because of his imprudent speech at Cincinnati, and his unyielding hostility to policies for which the party stood committed.

The fellows in the close counties, however, could not see anything but a dwindling of the Republican vote, and their banquet fodder did not taste as well as they thought it was going to when they sat down.

Over 200 members of the General Assembly, state officers and guests, including many ladies, sat at the annual dinner of that body last night. The affair was presided over by Senator Samuel H. West, of Bellefontaine, who made a very acceptable toastmaster. Previous to the speeches arranged upon the program for members of the legislature, addresses brief in length and not serious in character were made by United States Senator Charles Dick, Congressman W. A. Ashbrook of the Seventeenth district; General J. Warren Keifer of Springfield; Congressman James Kennedy of Youngstown.

In the course of his remarks Congressman Ashbrook, who is a Democrat, paid a tribute to the usefulness of the two Senators at Washington, and the sentiment was well received. The legislative program was opened by Speaker Freeman T. Eagleson, of Guernsey county, whose toast was "The Steam Roller." As both himself and Senator West were defeated for lieutenant governor at the last Republican convention it may be imagined that he had good material upon which to work.

None of the toasts was of serious import, the responses being made up of pleasanties and some jokes almost as old as Cedar Point itself. The dinner and speechmaking lasted until midnight. Today there will be a fireworks display which closes the entertainment of the lawmakers.

Beginning August 1st the Dell Fisher Boat line will run hourly between Buckeye Lake Park and the following point: McPherson and Holtsberry, Bader and Weiss, Clark and McPherson. First boat leaves about 8 a. m., last boat about 8 p. m. 8-1-24t

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

A large amount of ballast is being distributed along the Pittsburgh division of the Pan Handle railroad and the maintenance force has been increased. This work is being done preparatory to the opening of the fall season, and will be completed soon. The annual inspection by General Manager G. L. Peck and other officials is announced, will be made the latter part of October or early in November.

The Pennsylvania company has decided to abolish the title of "conductor" on all of its Pullman dining cars. Hereafter men in charge of the Pullmans, now called "conductors," will be known as "stewards." The reason given is that officials consider there are too many conductors on trains. They believe one conductor should be sufficient.

Passenger travel out of Newark every day is very heavy, especially on Saturday and Sunday.

The appropriation for the B. & O. shops, this city, is less for the month of August than the preceding month.

The B. & O. steam shovel has been placed at Vanattas. The company is getting from two to three trains of gravel daily, which is being distributed on the different divisions of the road.

Joseph Gleason, a popular B. & O. extra brakeman, is filling the place of John Leonard, who was killed a few days ago east of Zanesville.

WHITECAPS

BEAT INDIANA FARMER WITH BOARDS INTO WHICH NAILS HAD BEEN DRIVEN.

Authorities Are Conducting Investigation—Man Who Was Punished Will Leave.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8.—The white-capping of John Tribbey, a wealthy farmer, in Posey township, Rush county, will be investigated by the state authorities. Attorney General Bingham, in the absence of Governor Hanly from Indiana, took charge of the case. He went to Rushville and will personally conduct an investigation in hopes of arresting the guilty parties.

Late Wednesday night about 20 men appeared in Tribbey's home and took him out to a clump of trees. It is said that they stripped him and tied him to one, and beat him with boards having nails in them. It is reported that he was beaten almost to insensibility before the whitecaps produced a bucket of tar, with which he was covered. He was feathered and left to his misery. He was found yesterday and was said to be in a dying condition.

Following the beating from which Tribbey suffered the whitecappers went to the home of a neighboring woman, which they partly wrecked. All the windows were broken and boards were torn off the side of the house. The woman and her family were also told to shake the dust of Rush county from off their feet within 24 hours, and a note was put under the door, saying if they failed to comply with the request they would be hanged.

Tribbey was regarded as a substantial and law abiding citizen. A sensation was caused recently when his wife instituted divorce proceedings. She said they had never been married and have been living together as man and wife for over 25 years, during which time they reared a family. The wife said that when they left here to be wedded in Ohio Tribbey told her he had little money, and if she did not object they would save the expense of a marriage and return to live as man and wife. She agreed to the proposition, and neither divulged the secret until the domestic friction arose. The divorce proceedings were dropped and a settlement was effected. Later suit was filed and again dismissed. Tribbey is said to have been extremely jealous of his wife, and a few months ago he cut her half-brother's throat when he found her talking to him at the home of a neighbor.

It is understood that he will make arrangements to go away as soon as he is able to leave his bed and close his business affairs.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Thomas Goff entertained with a dinner party this week, complimentary to Miss Nancy Ashton of South Bend Ind., Miss John Lawler and Mrs. Sereeno Haynes of Granville, who have been her guests.

Mrs. Cliff Rosebrough, at her home in South Fifth street, entertained with a dinner party on Wednesday. The ladies enjoying Mrs. Rosebrough's hospitality were Mrs. Lester Nutter, Mrs. George Young, Mrs. George Haynes, Mrs. Lonnie Young, Mrs. Will Connor, and Miss Otto Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols will be guests at a house party to be given next week at Buckeye Lake. The party will be composed of Coshocton and Columbus people and a most delightful time is being anticipated by all. The party will live in cottages and take their meals at the hotel.

Misses Laura Riney and Juanita Riney of Coshocton, with a party of friends, arrived at Buckeye Lake the early part of this week. They will be guests at the Glass hotel for a couple of weeks. These young ladies are well known to many Newark people, having been regular guests at the lake for the past two or three summers.

Mrs. Frank Muenz, at her home on Union street, entertained at euchre Friday evening in honor of her three nieces, the Misses Walker. The prizes were awarded Mr. Townsend, Mrs. Bessie Mansfield and Mr. Korb.

Refreshments were served at a late hour to the following guests: Misses Walker, Mable Zimmerman, Ramona Welch, Nelle Pfeiffer, Gwendolyn Ramey, Magdalen McWilliams, Messrs. Earl Pritchett, Walter Townsend, Frank Runion, Ralph May, A. L. Norton, Ned Miller, Guy Miller, Frank Fleck, Dr. Keller, Mrs. Bessie Mansfield and Mr. and Mrs. Korb.

A very pleasant affair took place last evening at Dr. A. V. Davis' pretty home on Granville street in the way of a surprise party given by Mrs. Davis in honor of the doctor's birthday anniversary.

The surprise was more or less complete and the doctor is calculating on the chances of squaring himself with the guests whose maneuvers brought the affair to so successful a conclusion. Dainty refreshments at a late hour formed a gratifying climax to the pleasure of the evening and the gentlemen departed, leaving with Mr. Davis congratulations and best wishes.

Miss Bessie Hagmeier was fifteen years old this week and she marked the milestone by celebrating with a very delightful party. Cards and music furnished the amusement of the afternoon and at six o'clock a most appetizing dinner was served.

In the evening the young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Hagmeier went to the Auditorium, where they enjoyed her talking pictures.

Those who came to extend their happy birthday wishes and help make glad were: Miss Mildred Cogley of Wheeling, W. Va., Miss Pallie Harger of Avalon, Pa., Miss Lizzie Arent of Marietta, O., Misses Ethel Sash, Anna Hagmeier, Flora Schnorr of Pittsburgh, Pa., Misses Louise Koos, Helen Africa and Marie Neuman of Newark.

Mrs. Joseph Pound entertained the ladies of the Larkins club on last Thursday at her beautiful country home about five miles north of Newark. The day was spent in listening to graphophone music and pleasant conversation. At noon all entered the spacious dining room, which was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, and enjoyed a most delicious four course dinner. Mrs. Pound was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Ora Pound and Misses Hughes and Nutter.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Pound's hospitality were Mesdames Robert Stone, Mary Holtz, William Toothman, Charles Wilson, John Ashworth, Jennie Larson and Misses Daisy Kinsinger and Lizzie Weisant, all members of the club. Outside guests were Mesdames Allie English, Edward Pound, Felix Nutter and Ora Pound and children, Misses Anna Chaggett, Clara Stone, Edith Stone, Grace Nutter and Nellie Hughes.

The Independent Thimble club of Newark Hive No. 155 of Macabees, was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. J. I. Smith at her beautiful home on Ballard avenue. After the business of the day was disposed of the time was pleasantly spent in the enjoyment of music and general conversation.

At 5 o'clock the guests were invited into the dining room, which made a beautiful appearance with its decorations of pink and white, and here an elegant chicken dinner was served.

The members of the club present were Mesdames Hattie Faust, Jennie Johns, Nellie Johns, Jennie Stasel, Ida Donaldson, Ruth Wiles, Jennie Snooks, Parmalee Shultz, Hannah

Jones, Anna Smith, Wray, Mrs. Gray and . . . Night and two little sons and Miss Edith Walker.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Newark Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Newark proof:

C. E. Walton, 129 Valendingham street, Newark, O., says: "A few years ago I gave a statement setting forth the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills and at the present time, I gladly confirm that testimonial. Prior to using this remedy my kidneys were inactive for a number of years and caused dull pains across the small of my back which often changed to sharp twinges. The constant standing necessary in my occupation greatly aggravated my trouble and at times I suffered misery. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Crayton's drug store, started taking them and they quickly banished every sign of my trouble. I think very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and am constantly recommending them to other sufferers."

OLD BAY BILL ENJOYS FREEDOM IN THE COUNTRY

After Twenty-one Years of Hard Work Delivery Horse Takes Up
Life of Ease.

"Bay Bill," a remarkable horse that has worked on Smith Brothers' wagon for 21 years, and has always been ready for his feed and for the hardest kind of work, has just been sold to Mr. Charles Wright, who lives on a farm near Vanatta.

Bill is now 27 years old, but he hasn't a gray hair and is as spry and frisky as a colt. Mr. Wright drove Bill during the four years he worked for Smith Bros. and knowing his excellent qualities, he bought the horse for his wife and children. He has promised never to sell him unless by consent of Mr. C. L. Sturgeon, who recently bought the Smith Bros. grocery.

It was never necessary to send Bay Bill to the country on a vacation during his long service in town, and he therefore enjoys the freedom of the pasture fields to the full extent. In fact, he can be left out only for a short time daily, as he shows a tendency to jump and run and kill himself with joy.

Mr. Sturgeon knew the horse would have the kindest treatment in Mr. Wright's hands, otherwise he would not have parted with him, as Bill is almost like one of the family.

Y. M. C. A. HIKERS RETURN.

The week was spent in rambling all around through wild and rugged Hocking country. The two most interesting sights were Rock Bridge, a bridge composed of one solid rock 150 feet long, 6 feet thick and from 8 to 15 feet in width. The rock has an arch very similar to the ordinary suspension bridge and spans a chasm about 90 feet deep. Rock House is a cave about 17 miles from Logan, in a perfect wilderness. This cave has the shape of an old castle, having large rooms, windows and arched doors, and is wonderful to behold. It is about 200 feet long and the ceiling runs about 21 feet high. Cedar Rapids, Ash Cave, Thorp Cave and Salt-peter Cave were explored. The days were spent in hiking from one point of interest to another. The evenings were generally spent in visiting the nearest town. Last Wednesday evening the party gave a tent show on Rock Bridge. The entire town, and the farmers for miles around it turned out to give the boys the glad hand. The special features of the show were tumbling, singing, dancing, Y. M. C. A. calls, recitations, wrestling, etc. The little town of Rock Bridge will long remember the lively bunch of Newark hikers and the boys will always remember Rock Bridge.

Camp was broken Thursday morning. After a brisk march to town, the party chartered one of Lancaster's big autos and rode to Berly's on Buckeye Lake. After a cruise around the lake the party returned to Newark on the interurban. The boys gave their hiking yell in front of the building then disbanded after taking a swim in the pool.

Avondale boats leave the big pier at Buckeye Lake every hour, passing the floating islands and land you where you can get a good dinner or supper. 6-13-11

QUEEN STREET WHARF AND ENTRANCE TO TOWN WILL ALMOST BE REPRODUCED ON THE OCCASION OF THE AMERICAN FLEET'S VISIT.

Auckland, New Zealand, Aug. 8.—

Elaborate preparations for the reception of the American fleet, when it arrives here on August 9, and the entertainment of its officers and men during the six days the American ships will remain at Auckland have been made. Civic bodies and individuals are working with the government in arranging the program for the various days and the first gas gone forth to "do every thing well."

For the entertainment of the fleet the local authorities have already contributed $17,000 and the government $25,000. The entertainment of the men is to be made a prominent feature of the festivities. The Auckland program is as follows:

August 9 (Sunday), arrival of the fleet.

August 10, morning, landing and official reception. Afternoon, grand review of Auckland troops. Evening, official government banquet in Drill Hall.

August 11, race meeting at Ellerslie. Reception by the mayor of Auckland to visiting officers and representatives.

August 12 to 14, visit of officers of fleet to Rotorua.

August 14, state ball at government house.

August 15, interprovincial football match, Auckland vs. Wellington. Departure of fleet.

Monday, August 10, will be a public holiday. As the fleet will arrive on Sunday, it was not thought desirable that the vessels should be met by a flotilla of boats, but should be allowed to come direct to their anchorage. All the vessels in port will be decorated in honor of the occasion and the military will fire salutes. The premier, on behalf of the people will receive the admiral and his staff.

The government will illuminate all their buildings in Auckland, and for this purpose will use the fittings which were made for the visit of the Duke and Duchess of York. These fittings (both for illumination and decoration) are to be placed at the disposal of the local committee, to which the government will also hand over the sum of $25,000 to provide for a share of the cost of lunches for the men during this week.

The government purposes to give a national dinner on Monday evening, at which the admiral, officers and official guests will be present. At this gathering the mayor added, it is estimated that there will probably be an attendance of about 1000.

The friendly invasion of Australia by the American fleet, promises to relieve the monotony of the country's colorless history with an event of national importance. None, before has the privilege been accorded to a family connection, but not more so than for the children and friends.

REDMAN FAMILY REUNION

After being separated another 12 months on account of their homes being far apart, the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. John Redman, a venerable and highly esteemed couple residing at Cottage Hill, Muskingum county, gathered at the parental home on Sunday, August 2, and held their annual reunion. It was indeed a happy occasion, and all were glad that death had not invaded the family circle and carried away any of the loved ones. A number of friends were in attendance. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Brown of near Granton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Claypool, Miss Carrie Claypool, Mr. John Claypool, and Miss Mary Claypool, all of Mr. Vernon Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper, of Newark, Mr. and Mrs. Searl Weiss and son Everett, of Newark, Me. and Mrs. Ed Brown and son Russell of Elmira Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill of Pleasant Valley, and Mrs. Dorn and son of Newark.

The afternoon was spent in a social way, events of days gone by being recalled by the elder folks and the younger ones listening with interest. A splendid dinner and supper were served, and the afternoon was brought to a close with the good old hymn, "God be With You Till We Meet Again." It was a grand day for the father and mother of this large family connection, but not more so than for the children and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenwick Ewing and daughter have gone to Asbury Park, N. J., where they will be for a few weeks.

Word was received here of the death of Mrs. Isaac Haynes, which occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Pottinger. Otto Haynes, who lives on the John Larimore farm in Union township, is a son of the deceased.

Misses Anna and Dora O. Lisle of Chicago have returned home after a two weeks' visit with their grandmother, Mrs. Mary J. Lisle on Broadway.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS

The Catholic Columbian of Columbus, has the following to say regarding the improvements that are making at the St. Francis de Sales church, this city:

"St. Francis de Sales church, Newark, is having an addition built to it which will greatly enhance its general outlines. Under Mr. F. S. Gleichauf the architect, two new vestries are being erected connected by a passage way in the rear of the present vestries and sanctuary. The plans will be in harmony with the general structure but a new feature of this addition will be two extra separate vestries adjoining the old ones. Every modern convenience will be supplied to make this addition to the large edifice one of the most complete and convenient to be found anywhere. The pastor's house is also being changed and an addition added to the library. The schools were renovated and painted and everything conducive to the health of the teachers and pupils was considered. In the teachers' residence some improvements were made that will add to their comfort."

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING

CLIFFORD HOCKLEY 16, SHOT IN THE HIP BY A BOY COMPANION.

Lad Said Nothing of Injury Until the Pain Compelled Him to Do So. Injury Not Thought Serious.

Clifford Hockley, aged 16 years, a son of Mrs. R. Hockley, who lives on Gay street, East Newark, was accidentally shot and more or less seriously injured by a companion. Clifford Renz while shooting near the Children's Home Thursday afternoon. The shooting was entirely accidental, and the Renz boy is not to blame for the accident.

The two boys, who are about the same age, started out Thursday afternoon with a small target rifle, intending to walk through the country east of the city, shooting at various targets. They had proceeded as far as the Children's Home when the Renz boy pulled up to shoot at some object. Just as he pulled the trigger young Hockley came into range and the rifle cracked and the bullet lodged in the fleshy part of Hockley's hip. He came to his home and said nothing of the injury for some time until it began to pain him considerably. Then Dr. Downs was called and gave the wound attention. The bullet has not been recovered, but it is not thought the wound will result seriously.

Maker of "Cider" Vinegar Under Fire For Turning Out Fraud.

If the vinegar manufacturers of Ohio want to sell "cider" vinegar they should corner the apple crop for 1908 as State Dairy and Food Commissioner Renick W. Dunlap says that "cider vinegar" made out of molasses doesn't go in his balliwick. He backs up his declaration with four affidavits which he has placed in the hands of his inspectors to be filed against four prominent Ohio vinegar manufacturers, charging them with selling cider vinegar that is not made out of cider. The manufacturers are located in Toledo, Dayton and Cleveland. There will be more affidavits against manufacturers and dealers in Cincinnati.

One of the inspectors while out investigating conditions in the factories found two vats filled with a low grade of molasses which was evidently to be converted into "cider vinegar."

An affidavit has been prepared against a Lima sugar manufacturer who, it is alleged, sold ordinary cane sugar to a Delphos dealer for maple sugar, and one against a Cincinnati milk dealer whose milk was 15 per cent water.
